THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

All the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't seem to put the flag at Jefferson high flying again.

A prankster, doubtless ignorant of the great effect his work was to have on the lives of some ten men that day, cut the rope pulley holding the flag on the pole Sunday night.

To the rescue came the local fire department, the police and school janitors, and PG&E workers, arriving by fire truck, a car, and a service truck . . . some ten persons in all.

After deliberation and effort on the part of all present as to how to replace the rope, and with it, the flag, without damaging the pole, the perplexing situation was resolved when the 55-foot pole was unhooked from its base and lowered to the ground . . . a 20-minute operation.

MARY DUNCAN, 168 Hillcrest, had an almost disarming occurrence befall her Tuesday morning. While one arm was protruding out the window, the danged thing decided to close. Officer ROY BEECHER scurried to the rescue, lifting the make-shift stocks, and transported the hapless lady to Junipero Serra hospital, where she was treated for minor injury.

When not to ask too many questions was discovered by Attorney JULIAN D. COHN at the Wednesday morning meeting of the brand new WESTLAKE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION.

Cohn asked if someone could give him the names of those serving on the by-laws committee. On reading of the names to Cohn, he discovered that his was among the list—as chairman.

SGT. WILLIAM BOLGER is away from his post at the local PD this week, battling an incipient sore throat. Bill answers most of the phone calls that come in at the local station, but whether this was the cause for his affliction was not verified by medical opinion.

New faces seen from the bar floor: ERNIE ANSELMO has taken over the night stint at RUDIE'S place on Junipero Serra boulevard. He picks up the mix where BILL GEORGE, day man, leaves off. Ernie is from The Corner in San Francisco and hails from Burlingame. Hasn't always been a mixologist, though. Once a butcher and still can't figure out which product is more expensive to deal with. . . . At Central Club, now holding down the fort is GUS SEBASTIANI, 3171 San Jose avenue, and a resident of Daly City for 35 years. He formerly operated from the plank at the 622 club in San Francisco.

The "Silver Fox" of Lake Merced G & CC, CHARLEY HOOK, will still meet competitors in golf, though he's been retired for a year now. He'll go a few rounds again if somebody "real good, like BEN HOGAN or BYRON NELSON wants to play me."

Reports have it that CASEY STENGEL is pleased with the work of favorite son EDDIE CEREGHINO at the Yanks camp site in Glendale.

SAL GRIMALDI, local author-baker and man-about-the-world, got a fair shake on his "Sword of Doom" in the Call-Bulletin in a review appearing in the book section Saturday.

JACK BENNY'S "The Horn Blows at Midnight" couldn't be more ludicrous than the sounds emanating from Daly City's horn that blows promptly and raucously at noon every day. . . . Adding insult to injury was Saturday's sad happening, when the horn became stuck and wailed forth blantly for nearly three minutes, putting hill-toppers on the verge of bedlam. A valve, clogged with various sediment collected over a long period, had stuck, causing the automatic horn to lengthen its regular mid-day plaint.

COUNCIL AWARDS BIDS FOR POLICE CARS TO GATEWAY

The council Monday night awarded a bid for two new police cars to Gateway Chevrolet company, who entered low bid of $999.16 and $1099.16 with trade-in.

The police-car bids brought about the first disagreement that has been evidenced in the council's ranks in a period of more than half-a-year. Councilman Paul Green and Edward J. Dennis went in favor of accepting Gateway's low bids, while Councilmen James Kennedy and Joe Verducci suggested that the chief of police be consulted as to which car would better serve the department.

Breaks Deadlock

Mayor Anthony Gaggero broke the deadlock on the matter by going in favor of the low bid.

Phillip La Bruzzo and Gerald Schaeffer were appointed by the council to positions as patrolmen with the local police force. Their appointments were made effective as of February 16.

A public hearing on annexation of land in the Abbey Homestead area was closed for "more study." Councilman Green also asked Dan Andersen, city administrator, (Continued on Page 2)

Clear Skies -- Crowded Roads -- Accidents Take Record Toll

ONE OF THE MANY scenes of injurious auto mishaps occurring last weekend is shown here. Melvin E. Johnson, 25, (center of picture) received cuts, bruises and concussion when motorcycle on which he and Shirley Christensen, 17, were riding struck an automobile driven by Waldo J. Fresnoz, 26, of South San Francisco. The accident was at Mission street and Parkview avenue Sunday noon. Eleven Injured Here In Weekend Mishaps

Clear skies and well-travelled highways combined to result in injury to 11 persons in auto accidents here last weekend.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi said the office was besieged with accident calls and was still busy making out reports Monday afternoon.

Sailors Injured

Four sailors were injured early Monday morning when the car in which they were riding went out of control at Flournoy and San Jose avenues and smashed into two houses, police said.

Those injured were: Don Spankanks, 19, the driver, who suffered multiple lacerations of the face and head, internal injuries, possible fractured ribs, and a deep 20-stitch cut on the forehead.

David O. Timmerman, 19, cuts and bruises on the forehead and legs.

Edw. rd Rodman, 22, and Edwin Osika, 21, multiple cuts and bruises.

All were taken to Junipero Serra hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to their home base hospital at Alameda naval air station.

The car apparently failed to negotiate a turn from Flournoy avenue onto San Jose, hitting a car parked in front of 3285 San Jose, owned by Joseph Funes, and continuing on to crash into two houses at 3265 and 3275 San Jose avenue, police said.

"Bike" Riders Hurt
Two motorcycle riders suffered serious injuries Sunday about noon when the vehicle on which they were riding struck an automobile driven by Waldo J. Fresnoz, 26, 212 Lux avenue, South San Francisco, at Mission street and Parkview avenue.

The injured were Melvin E. Johnson, 25, who was treated for face cuts and bruises and concussion, and Shirley Christensen, 17. (Continued on Page 2)

Chamber To Seek Answer to SF Annexation Threat

Is annexation of Westlake and Broadmoor by San Francisco possible?

The Chamber of Commerce here will attempt to come up with the answer in the near future.

Board of directors of the chamber met at noon yesterday and agreed to launch an intensive study on the matter.

The board also decided to send two representatives of the chamber to the State of California Managers of Chamber of Commerce convention to be held in Oakland February 24-28. Those who will attend the gathering are: Alice Van Over and L. L. Pelham.

Duties of the Chamber of Commerce, functions, and power of the various committees was also discussed.

Pelham suggested that a local member attend official meeting of either the San Mateo or San Francisco chamber, to give the local group some insight into the workings of established chambers.

The regular meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Thursday at noon at the Lake Merced Golf and Country club.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD FATALLY INJURED IN 100-FOOT ABANDONED QUARRY FALL

Laurenz Larsen, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larsen, 391 Woodrow street, was fatally injured Friday afternoon after a fall over a 100-foot cliff near Twin Peaks in San Francisco while playing with Billy Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Wilson, 462 Templeton avenue, also 5.

Earlier that day the youngsters were taken to their classes at the West Portal Lutheran school at 200 Sloat boulevard by Wilson's older brother, Brian.

Wander To Quarry

The two children decided against going to their kindergarten classrooms, and wandered, instead, down the 200 block of Edgehill drive, where they spotted the old quarry.

The youngsters were discovered missing by school authorities and their parents shortly after noon. Police officers from Taraval station were notified and a search of the entire Twin Peaks area was begun.

Meantime, however, police received a call from Mrs. Edmund G. Gaynor, 265 Edgehill drive, that a child had been critically hurt in a fall from a cliff nearby.

Mrs. Gaynor told officers she noticed the Wilson boy crying as he climbed down a nearby hill. Asked what the matter was, young Wilson replied, "My pal fell down the cliff."

Rushing to the abandoned quarry with neighbors, Mrs. Gaynor discovered the unconscious youngster lying at the base of a 100-foot cliff.

The lad was rushed to Mission emergency hospital where he later succumbed to injuries. Emergency attendants reported he had suffered a basal skull fracture and a compound fracture of the left leg.

SCHOOL BOND RECEIVES 5 to 1 APPROVAL; USE OF STATE MONEY OKEYED

LOYALTY OATH FOR CITY EMPLOYEES IS ESTABLISHED

Among resolutions passed by the county Monday night was one setting up a loyalty oath for city employees.

Under the oath, employees must solemnly swear to defend and support the constitution of the United States and California against all enemies.

The city workers must also swear that they are not, nor have they been in the five years prior to the oath taking, members of any organization that advocates overthrow of the United States or California by force or violence.

The city clerk was directed by the resolution to attest to the oaths of all employees.

The council also passed a resolution approving a progress payment of $1350 to Bragato Paving company for improvements on Brunswick street. The payment was held up until Robert Klassen, former city engineer, had inspected the work.

A resolution was passed entering agreement between Daly City and the U. S. Army for construction of a six-inch sewer line to serve a military installation near here.

Plans and specifications for widening Knowles avenue were approved and a resolution was passed calling for bids on the work at 8 p.m. March 23.

Tax roll call for Teresa Terrace, formerly Abbey Homestead subdivision, was corrected from $508.81 to read $386.27, as the area was resubdivided prior to assessment.

Duplicate assessments amounting to $150.70 for lots 28 to 39 of the Garden Valley Land association were also cancelled. The property had been resubdivided and therefore duplicate assessment had been made.

JUANITA GIUSTI IS SWORN IN AS POLICE MATRON-STENO.

Juanita Giusti, 6785-A Mission street, was sworn in as police matron-stenographer Wednesday by City Clerk B. C. Ross.

Mrs. Giusti formerly served with the water department and as a clerk for Judge William Sweeney.

Her job will consist of secretarial work for the police department and meeting persons seeking information at the office.

She will also act as matron for women brought into custody by local police.

The position was approved by the council recently, after a request by the police department for additional personnel.

Council Names Two Rec Commissioners

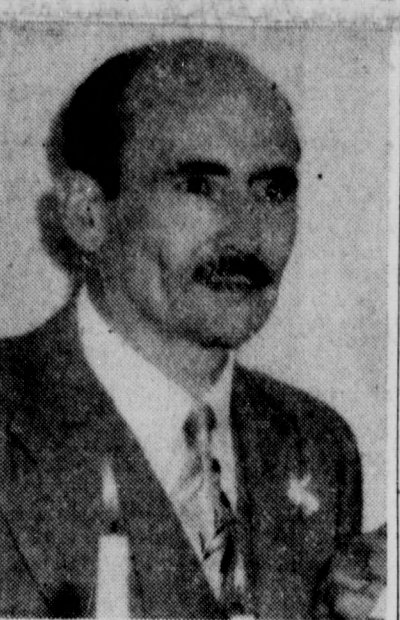

Two appointments were made Monday night at the council meeting to fill the vacancies on the recreation commission. Named to the posts were: Thomas Laramie and Walter J. Gillies.

Walter J. Gillies

Gillies, who lives at 212 Frankfort street, has been active in working with teen-age ball clubs in the area and was a leader for the Boy Scouts in San Francisco.

The other appointee has lived here 23 years at 57 West Cavour. He has expressed an active interest in sports and says: "There are many little things that can be done here for recreation to improve the current program."

Voters of the Jefferson elementary school district last week approved by a vote of 5 to 1 to bond the district to $840,000 and to apply for state aid funds.

A total of 1246 persons gave their approval to the bond issue, while 234 voted against it.

Authorization to borrow from the state received 1215 affirmative votes, 262 unfavorable.

Both issues needed only a two-thirds majority to pass.

"Not Erected Overnight"
According to Fred Schweickhardt, a coordinator of guidance for the district, "The decision of the voters of the Jefferson elementary school district to build new schools will have a far-reaching effect upon our children."

He also said that the decision of the voters would mean "far fewer children will have to attend half day sessions in the future."

"In addition," he continued, "we can begin to plan for greater development of programs in science, home economics, physical education, etc."

"However," he pointed out, "we must all bear in mind that school buildings are not erected overnight. Although preliminary plans are already made for the Vista Grande and Olympic schools, for a multi-use room at Crocker school, and for the enlargement of the Gen. Pershing playground, it will be two or three years before children will be using these facilities."

B. of A. Gets Fire Bonds

Bid for the $173,500 local fire bonds was awarded to the Bank of America Tuesday by the council in a special adjourned meeting.

Bank of America's figure for overall interest rate, for a period extending until 1982, was slightly less than three per cent.

A difference of only some $600 separated the Bank of America's low bid from the high bid for total interest cost, $90,885.63, submitted by American Trust company.

Of the total $173,500 in bonds, $25,000 will mature in 1958 at an interest rate of five per cent; $30,000 in 1964 at a rate of two and a half per cent; $20,000 in 1968 at a rate of two, and three-quarters per cent; and $98,500 in 1982 at a rate of three per cent.

The overall interest rate was arrived at by combining the rates at the different dates for the bonds' maturity.

Bonds will be sold in denominations of $1000.

February 25 Is Last Day To File for Broadmoor Police Commission Post

Less than two weeks remain to file for the one police commissioner post in Broadmoor.

Candidates for the three-year term must have their applications on file at the Broadmoor police station by noon, February 25.

Election will be held April 11. The Broadmoor commission is made up of three persons, two of whom will remain in office.

Big Turnout at 27th Annual Function of Veteran Firemen

AN ANNUAL AFFAIR—A lot of the old-timers, newcomers and city officials turned up last Saturday night at the Colonial for the Veteran Firemen association's 27th annual banquet. Robert Van Zandt, left, is honored as outgoing president of the group. Presenting him with a token of the organization's gratitude for his duty is Al Sundstrom. Seated, next to microphone, is Emil Bertelli, the new president. At his right are Gus Ford, secretary, and Larry Shaw, treasurer. Later in the ceremonies Sundstrom was presented a gift from James Welsh, former president, on behalf of Sundstrom's "many admirers." Welsh lauded Sundstrom for his service to the organization and to the community.

RIDGELY CUMMINGS REPORTS:

... from HOLLYWOOD

GRAND CHARITY BALL

What a switch! Usually it is the movie stars who perform and the humble-semi-anonymous citizens who sit on the sidelines and watch them.

But the other night at the Press Photographers Ball it was the other way around.

While ordinary typewriter pounders like me circled sedately around the dance floor to the music of Manny Harmon, there on the sidelines sat Victor Mature, Judy Garland, Debby Reynolds, Virginia Mayo, Michael O'Shea, Rory Calhoun and scores more equally well known, giving us the double-o.

Mature wore a deep tan and a slightly careworn expression but he is indubitably a handsome man. This was the first time I had seen him in the flesh.

Clear-Eyed, Contented

Judy Garland looked clear-eyed and contented but the young lady with whom I was dancing drew my attention to an incipient double chin. However, women always see the worst in each other and as far as I'm concerned Judy is still close to the top of my list of show business heroines.

A sloe-eyed blonde stared at me with what I modestly interpreted as an admiring look.

"Who is she?" I asked my partner.

"She's with young Barrymore so she must be his new wife," my girl said.

Needed Halreut

Barrymore Junior needed a haircut and he had a group of tough-looking kids in tuxes at his table but I certainly admire his taste in femininity.

The reason the celebrities were sitting and the hot-polloi dancing was that all the tables in the new Hotel Statler's ballroom had been reserved by the movie colony. We could dance in there but if we wanted to sit we had to go to one of the numerous bars.

This circumstance is blamable on the architect who designed the Statler. He must have done it in his sleep while having nightmares. The decor is ultra modern but 33 conflicting colors and styles, so much so that George Jessel was moved to get off the wise-crack of the evening.

Shot Wrong One

"Looking around me," said Jessel, who had been introduced as the Toastmaster General of the United States, "I'm convinced that Harry K. Thaw shot the wrong architect."

Jessel was referring to the notorious Madison Square Garden shooting of Stanford White but at least one of the girls in our party was so young she hadn't heard about it and didn't get the joke, which makes me feel kind of elderly around the edges.

The occasion for all this was the Ninth Grand Charity Ball put on by the Los Angeles Press Photographers Association. It was quite an affair, with tickets priced at $25 and you can be sure your correspondent was on the free list or I'd never have got there.

The photos took over the entire mezzanine floor of the Statler, with its four ballrooms and an inside veranda half a city block long, overlooking a beautiful blue swimming pool.

Lesser Gatherings

In addition there were numerous semi-private parties branching out from the big one, going on in smaller-rooms scattered through the hotel. Not being much of a drinker, I didn't find out about these until early in the morning.

The affair started at 6 p.m. with a cocktail gathering.

At about eight we went in for dinner—crab cocktails, of which I am inordinately fond, half chickens (or maybe they were squabs) served on toast over ham, and baked Alaska.

Probably most readers know what baked Alaska is but until that night I didn't. What it is, is ice cream inside of cake.

Here's how it's made. The ice cream, I was told, is moulded into the form of a salmon and covered with cake dough. Then meringue is piled on top. The whole thing is popped into an extremely hot oven.

Precise Moment

At precisely the right moment, when the cake is cooked but before the ice cream has started to melt, it is taken out of the oven and plunked into a refrigerator. Covered with flaming rum, it is served with the lights out.

The net result is lovely to look at and quite tasty but extremely rich. I'm a man who likes the simple things of life.

Cardinal McIntyre was the stellar guest of this part of the evening. He and Jessel got off some amusing quips and then Actor Pat O'Brien took the floor and topped them both by telling stories in which the newly-hatted Cardinal was mistaken for a baseball player just signed to a St. Louis team, the Cards. It was all in good taste though, as befitted the occasion, during which the Cardinal was presented with a plaque by the cameramen.

Poor Mayor Bowron

There were so many celebrities at the speaker's table, including editors of the local papers and cinema stars, that poor Mayor Fletcher Bowron didn't even get introduced.

The Mayor is running for reelection and is in bad with some of the heavy-money boys who boss the city because of his courageous stand on public housing. The scribes with whom I set were all for Bowron and waxed quite indignant at the oversight, if that was what it was.

After the dinner Freddy Martin's orchestra started playing for dancing in one of the ballrooms and a show began in another.

My party looked in on the show for an hour or so but mostly we just roamed around talking with friends, rubber-necking and dancing. It was the people who paid $25 who packed around the stage, determined no doubt to get their money's worth regardless of the discomfort of the chairs.

Ed Wynn, an oldtimer who is still quite funny, acted as master of ceremonies and one of the high spots came when he introduced his son, Keenan Wynn the character actor.

Hit of the Show

Hit of the show, or at least of what I saw of it, was the Bell Sisters, a couple of charming kids who sang "Wheel of Fortune," "A Fool Was I," and several encores in terrific style.

Peggy Lee, the new Warner Brothers star, and Liberace, the pianist, also were good.

But going to a party is not my idea of an occasion for sitting in a row of seats watching a series of skits. So I missed the acts of Debbie Reynolds, Jane Wyman, Dick Powell, June Allyson, Marion Davis, Ann Baxter and other top personalities who donated their services for the crippled children society.

Anyway it was more fun to rub shoulders with the talent on the veranda than to applaud them on the stage, though not all of them stayed on for the fun.

Breakfast was served at 3:30 a.m. and the shindig lasted long after but my staying powers didn't. I'll bet there were a lot of hangovers in Hollywood the next day.

Andersen replied that he had contacted Dr. Harold Chohe, the county health director, who had said that in the future all reports would contain more information.

The council also approved a trip by Andersen to Monterey for a city managers' convention.

Asked by Councilman Green if the meeting was just a "maypole affair," Andersen said the program would be worthwhile and educational and that many new ideas in city administration would no doubt be brought up.

In other action the council created the civil service post of captain of the fire department and referred bids for community center gymnasium equipment to the recreation commission.

Elementary School Children Prepare Entries for Art Contest

It Looks Anything But Good

The bill setting up a flood control and water conservation district in San Mateo county looks anything but good for this end of the county.

Under the first section of this bill the entire county is placed within the proposed district and a subsequent section permits an ad valorem (according to the value) tax levy of two cents per hundred dollars assessed valuation across the entire county, irrespective of whether all areas would derive benefit from the district.

While the Greater Daly City area has encourtered its problems in the matter of flood control, a great deal of time and money has already been expended locally in combatting the problem and, to a large degree, it has been whittled.

In other words, Daly City would help foot the bill for other cities' water problems.

Unless this bill is amended to exclude areas where adequate flood control exists from taxation, Daly City will be feeding the tax kitty further for the "common benefit"—but none of the benefits will be seen here.

Slowly, But Surely

We are pleased to see that the community center is coming into the limelight as a site for civic activity.

As landscaping goes ahead at the building's site, so are preparations for many future activities there.

What should act as the real christening of the center will be the Lions art contest, to be held there February 27, 28 and 29.

What started out as a laudable enough art contest, has grown to a project of large dimensions, with more than 300 grammar and high school entries.

The Lions are to present a total of 54 prizes at their contest, so quite a few will have a chance to go home a winner.

And for those who fail to win, the contest will have contributed something too.

This effort of the Lions to encourage skill in arts and crafts has shown us that the potential interest is here, but merely needs an active force behind it.

So, come the weekend of February 27, citizens of Daly City will have a chance to view the work of local youth, and at the same time witness the first large-scale use of the community center.

Breaking the Ice

The evidence of slight disagreement in the city council's ranks Monday night was a welcome sight.

The purpose of any governing body is to thrash out problems by means of intelligent argument and discussion.

In the past all matters have been presented, a few brief comments made on them, and then they have been summarily passed, with accord from all councilmen.

Monday night's negative opinions were only on a comparatively small issue—the granting of bids for two police cars. But nevertheless, it showed that the members of the council can think separately.

A few more honest opinions and we believe the government will better serve the people of Daly City.

Modern-Day Valentines

Our modern Valentines have a centuries-old history as fascinating and sentimental as Dan Cupid himself.

They are the romantic heritage of more than 500 years of experimentation by anxious sweethearts and imaginative publishing firms.

In style, purpose and price, however, Valentines have changed from generation to generation. Silhouetted against the background of time, these developments reveal how the Valentine custom has steadily increased in popularity.

The original Valentines, a fact almost forgotten today, were strictly tokens of friendship—for over 1000 years! They were sent to commemorate the kindly spirit of St. Valentine, a young Roman priest executed February 14, 270 A. D., for refusing to renounce Christianity.

Medieval sweethearts began exchanging romantic Valentines around 1400. These early creations were designed with quill pen, pastepot and great expectations.

Cupid's more talented victims peppered their Valentines with amorous scenes neatly drawn in black and white. Later they were made by folding paper and cutting it into very intricate and lacy patterns, which were carefully handcolored.

By the 17th century, the Valentine custom had spread throughout Europe. The style shifted to elaborate ornamentation. Rich noblemen bedecked their Valentines with expensive jewels, and hired ghost writers to pen impassioned rhymes.

In the lower income brackets, love-plagued swains, at weary hours decorating Valentines with little doves, pressed flowers, silk ribbons and cut-out hearts. England solved verse-writing problems for a sixpence by publishing the first "Valentine Writer" in 1640.

Similar pamphlets with tailor-made verses, and tips on how-to-build-a-better Valentine, were popular until the early 1800's. Meanwhile, new graphic arts processes had been developed, such as color engraving, lithography and aquatint.

As the 19th century began, English publishers were already selling elegantly printed Valentines. The competition among professional designers was keen, and clever innovations quickly followed.

One unusual Valentine pictured a gaily-colored floral bouquet that opened, like an accordion, into what resembled a "flower cage" or "spider web." Inside this screen a tiny cupid and verse appeared.

"Mechanical Valentines" were introduced in the 1840's. They featured movable figures, easily animated by a cardboard tongue. Some would picture a tiny cottage or village church, with sides that opened to reveal a happy domestic scene or wedding ceremony.

This was the so-called "Golden Age of Valentines." In frills and fuss, the Valentines of this period, 1830-60, reached a peak of perfection and beauty that has only been equaled in recent years.

Victorian England exported great quantities of Valentines to America; for here, too, they had been handmade since Revolutionary War days. Envelopes were added for the first time, and when a low-cost postal service began Valentines became more popular than ever.

American publishers began selling their own Valentines in 1840. By 1857 over three million Valentines were sold in the United States, retailing from three cents to thirty dollars apiece.

As the century wore on, numerous Valentines became fashionable. They still are. The 1933 Valentines are evenly divided between the whimsical type and those created in the lace-and-ribbon tradition.

Modern lads and lasses, however, value the verses most of all. For those in love are still seeking some special way to say—"Let's be Sweethearts!"

Likes Reading About Local Happenings

Dear Sir:

I have been receiving THE RECORD from you ever since I entered the Marine corps, which was about 21 months ago. Even though the paper is about five weeks old when I receive it, I still enjoy it very much. I know that all the other Daly City servicemen really enjoy reading about the happenings back home.

I want you to know that I appreciate your sending THE RECORD to me. Since I will be returning home in May, I believe the last paper I will receive will be the last week in March.

Expresses Thanks for Support on Bonds

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

I want to thank you and your reporters most sincerely for the very excellent support given our school bond election.

I am quite sure we would never have marked up such a success if it had not been for your efforts.

The illustrations were especially fine and the map of the voting places was very helpful too—I heard many favorable comments about it.

Also I would like you to help me thank everyone for the wonderful committee work done by the citizens of this district. Everybody did a grand job and words fall short at a time like this.

It would be difficult to lay the success of the election at any one persons feet but I would like to say a very extra special thank you to Mrs. Carl Berg and Pete Markovich—who really gave of their time and effort "beyond the call of duty."

Again my sincerest gratitude to all of you.

Yours truly,

Reader Scores High Taxes, Backward Approach to Solving Daly City's Problems

To the Editor:

As a resident of Daly City for seven years, I have watched my taxes pyramid to their present unreasonable and unjustified levels. Meanwhile the very functions of government agencies and their related services have been sharply reduced. Due to slipshod maintenance methods our streets have degenerated to their present level of ripples and chuckholes.

The continued patching of our streets with old crank case oil and loose gravel is most unsatisfactory, and a waste of both money and manpower.

Our needs now and in the future call for purchase of some modern paving equipment to remedy this shameful and dangerous condition of our streets.

The storm sewer control program that should have kept pace with the rapid growth of this area was permitted to remain stagnant.

The result of this is that during the rainy season the 500 block of Hillside boulevard is turned into a roaring creekbed, creating a distinct menace to anyone attempting to cross this boulevard. This same condition is duplicated in other parts of Daly City and should be corrected.

Daly City is also very backwards in its feeble approach to solutions of other civic needs. Namely, public transportation, elimination of hazardous traffic conditions, removal of public eyesores, and a continued failure to rigidly enforce the provisions of the sidewalk law.

While I can criticize further on other needs of our community, I will close for now, hoping the future brings some improvements in modern facilities in exchange for our ultra modern taxes.

I remain, a subscriber

AROUND THE AREA

San Bruno Subdivision

A $15,000,000 housing project will be constructed in San Bruno in the near future on a 700-acre tract opposite Golden Gate cemetery's western limits and extending from Junipero Serra to Skyline boulevard.

The developer, Charles White, president of American Lumber Mills, 1108 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame, announced that the deal was closed last week.

Maurer Recall

A notice of intention to recall William Maurer, stormy figure in San Bruno city government for the past 26 years, has been filed with that city's clerk.

The notice, first legal move in the recall movement which has been pending against Maurer since he asked City Manager Matt W. Slankard to resign voluntarily or "face the consequences" was signed by a committee of 11 backers, made up of housewives and civic leaders.

DALY CITY FAMILIES LIVING BETTER THAN AVERAGE IN STATE

Compared with other families in California, Daly City residents are living high.

At least according to a report by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers association, which recently analyzed latest census reports on national housing characteristics.

The report determined that homes here are better heated, equipped with superior plumbing facilities and refrigeration and are less crowded than the average dwelling in the state.

The survey also showed that 73.3 per cent of Daly City's homes are equipped with central heating as compared with 44.1 per cent for all of California.

According to the analysis, 94.2 per cent of Daly City's homes have hot running water and private bath as contrasted with 86 per cent for the entire state. A total of 86.2 per cent of Daly City homes are equipped with mechanical refrigeration.

Natural gas predominates as the city's heating, water heating and cooking fuel.

At census time, 1950, Daly City's 15,020 residents were housed in 4679 homes with an average of three persons living in each dwelling, according to the report.

MY MAD WORLD

by Leonore Brewer

Since this is the beginning of what the writer fondly hopes will be a long and relatively happy association between us, now is the time to state the policy of this column.

I have always had a boundless enthusiasm for music, coupled with an overwhelming urge to talk it with anyone who would listen, and with many who just couldn't get away. The latter have lately become more wary, but no less authorities than the Wall Street Journal and Fortune magazine offer hope that I should have no difficulty in finding additional listeners.

They have stated that concert music brings in more money than baseball, and this does not include the millions of dollars spent annually on what are popularly called "classical" records. So, somewhere within the reach of this paper must be thousands, well, hundreds anyway, of "hi-fi" ears, tuned to catch the slightest murmur on music.

We attend a reasonable number of musical events, including the regular series of the San Francisco Opera Association, and at least one performance of each ballet company. We have a modest record collection, reflecting our principal interest—the opera. Few of the better films escape our attention. So, you can see that seldom will you find me with nothing to say. The chief difficulty is not to get me started, as in the ballet "Mute Wife," get me to stop.

Let me state now, so that there can be no future confusion, this column will not be in competition with the critical reviews in the San Francisco dailies. The reader in search of a technical analysis of a performance must seek elsewhere. However, the opinions, which you will find are given freely, will be my own, nor will they be hidden under a smokescreen of ambiguities, leaving the reader doubtful as to exactly what I did think. In the past I have erred more toward the pill than toward the sugar coating.

My world has always had a Coteau-like atmosphere, peopled with the shadowy figures of most of the great singers and dancers of the past fifteen years, in which they wander through vaguely defined sets from half-forgotten films. Through all this thunder Beethoven, Wagner and Verdi. It may be a mad world, but it's my world, and there's unlimited space in it.

homes on the Peninsula several years before they were apprehended by police and sent to San Quentin, reported the gang must have had a truck to carry away all the loot.

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Feb. 11 — After staging a one-man riot with Daly City police Sunday night beginning in Mission circle and ending amid broken chairs and chair legs in police headquarters, John "Tiger" Nixon, Fort McDowell soldier, was turned over to Military Police Monday to answer to commanding officers.

Further complications arose when Nixon created such a brawl in the back seat of the police car enroute to headquarters that pedestrian John Clark, 243 Los Banos avenue, was struck by the patrol car. He was taken to the Villa hospital in the city ambulance and treated for injuries to the hip.

Charles J. Gebhardt, Burlingame attorney, was named attorney for the town of Colma Monday morning. He was appointed by the town council at their regular meeting.

Gebhardt, who make his home in South San Francisco, fills a vacancy in Colma's legal department created by the resignation of R. L. Ariani, former city attorney. Gebhardt practices law in Burlingame, and he joins the Colma organization with high recommendations from Burlingame.

Reduction of water rates for residents who are raising victory gardens appeared possible in Daly City Monday, when the city council called a special meeting with the water department for next week to discuss plans on the measure.

Councilman Edmund Cavagnaro, who brought the plan to the board's attention two weeks ago, renewed his measure Monday night for further discussion.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Feb. 11. — In spite of wind and rain about 200 appreciative listeners gathered at the Jefferson Union high school auditorium Tuesday evening to hear the band concert by the Daly City band.

The program from beginning to end was rendered with a unity, smoothness and finesse that gives challenge to more experienced musical groups. The flutes, clarinets, bassoons, trumpets, horns, trombones, saxophones, cornets, drums, etc., responded to the able leadership of George Brenner in an excellent manner.

The 73-mile gale, which did a great deal of damage in all parts of San Mateo county Wednesday, boasted its loudest in Daly City at about 12:30 p.m. The tops were blown from our city reservoirs and the transformers near the water storage were badly affected by the gale. The motor on the west well was thrown out of commission and will not be in running order until Saturday.

One person, James Gunn, 35, of San Francisco, was injured in a three-car crash early Sunday morning of this week on Bayshore highway near Bayshore City.

Vere William Olney, 41, who identified himself as a superintendent of a San Francisco hospital, was not apprehended until James Gardner, San Francisco, chased him several miles into Daly City. Here police filed against him a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried today.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Feb. 10.—At the regular luncheon of the Daly City Lions Monday noon, there was a discussion by the members as to the best way to advertise our fast-growing community.

Claude Rich, president of the club, suggested that a slogan, such as the merchants in other communities use, be selected, and also suggested that a prize be offered for the best slogan.

The new Milo Market, recently completed by A. Milo, was formally opened last Friday evening, the opening of this splendid addition to the business section of Daly City being attended by a vast throng of residents of this section.

Last Saturday evening Miss Grace Miller, 255 Irvington street, was hostess at a party given in honor of her schoolmates. The evening was spent in dancing and unity refreshments were served by the hostess. Those enjoying the evening were: Misses Anita Barner, Eleanor Boyle, Dorothy Riddell, Mildred Franklin, Helen Herzog, Margaret Maule, Evelyn Lucas, Henrietta Palma, Mable Hagenah, Beatrice Poynter, Grace Miller; Messrs. Harry Coulter, Oliver Coulters, Ignatius Montethone, Harry Dorn, Wm. Loring, Charles Clemens, Eddi Roscamp, Harold Carlson, Cushman Riddick, Walter Bakke and Over Seylor.

Jet Flight Team At Oakland Sunday

Stopping off in the Bay Area on a trans-U.S. tour, the Navy's jet acrobatic flight team, the "Blue Angels," will make one of its rare appearances before a west coast audience Sunday at the Oakland Naval Air Station adjacent to the city Municipal Airport. The station will be open to the public throughout the afternoon on that date.

The "Blue Angels" staged the first of two shows scheduled for this area last Sunday (February 8) at Moffett Naval Air Station at Sunnyvale, a public performance for residents of the San Jose region.

The jet team, flying Grumman F9F-5 "Panthers," will highlight an all-afternoon air show and exhibit at the Oakland base. The Navy will open its gates to visitors at noon. The "open house" will end at 5 p.m.

Hillside PTA Rag Drive Is Success

The rag drive which was held by the Hillside PTA last week at the Colma School was a success, according to PTA officials. The unit thanks all the students of the Colma school, the untiring efforts of all the teachers as well as Mar-jorie Tobias, the principal of the school, who gave of her time so unselfishly.

The students were anxious to make money to pay off the television set which arrived at the school last week. The Salvage Company said that if a student brings 3 pounds of rags—the average that is a good drive. The 500 students of Colma school collected 3950 pounds of rags for this drive which is more than double the average. We are proud of our hardworking pupils and wish to thank them for their labors. The PTA extended a "thank you" to all the parents and neighbors who gave so willingly.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Colma school Wednesday evening at 8 p.m., with Mrs. A. J. Nagy, president, presiding. Founders Day plans are being made by Mrs. Thomas Mullen, the chairman. She has invited Mrs. R. A. Andresen from the 17th district to be the speaker that evening. A candle lighting ceremony will be held. Founders Day is a day set apart to give tribute to those who, in the past, have worked for PTA.

The board meeting for February was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Fred Wittig, 740 Stoneford drive.

A hot dog sale is going to be held at the Colma school for the pupils on February 10 with Mrs. Pauline Bertetta as the chairman.

Mothers of the unit helped out in the Mother's March for the polio fund on night of February 3.

Seven western states have an overall total of $120,000,000 invested in buildings and grounds of their 132 state, county and district fairs.

The PTA has extended its thanks to all those who supported the school bond election.

The group has also expressed its happiness at the news that H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the elementary district, has been released from the hospital.

Mrs. Dunbar Given Life Membership

Mrs. Howard A. Dunbar, president of the Westlake PTA, was presented with the honorary life membership by Mrs. Eleanor Zeno, principal of the school at the Founders day meeting, Thursday evening, Feb. 5.

The honorary life membership was presented to Mrs. Dunbar for her untiring work in behalf of the children, service to the community and her fine leadership in organizing and heading the Westlake unit of the PTA.

Present Movie
The fourth grade children presented a movie written as an outgrowth of their work in social studies. The teachers and children were highly commended by the PTA for the excellence of the program prepared. Their movie written on the History of California was guided by Mrs. Schuber, Miss Paynter, Miss Bryant and Mrs. Allen.

Mrs. Robert Malone, recreation chairman, told of the great need for Brownie leaders, so the Brownie scouts can be organized in Westlake. Mrs. Malone also discussed the subjects available for adult education. An arts and crafts course requiring only simple tools was suggested.

A successful Mother's March on Polio was the report from Mrs. I. W. Silberstein, overall chairman of the "Mothers March." Nearly $1900 was collected. More than 100 mothers participated. Mrs. Silberstein thanked all those who worked so hard to make it a success.

Nominating Committee
The following were elected to serve on the Nominating Committee: Mrs. Eleanor Zeno, Mrs. George Bozzini, Mrs. I. W. Silberstein, Mrs. Harold Epstein and Mrs. Boyle.

Mrs. Fred Kruse introduced Mrs. Stella Jensen, past president of the 17th district, the guest speaker for the evening. Mrs. Jensen outlined the honorary life membership project which was started to create a fund so that worthy students could complete their education—an investment in the future of some fine person. Education is the main project but scholarships in other fields are given.

Acrostic Given
An acrostic on Founders day was given by the following PTA members: Mrs. Frank Verducci, Mrs. Guido Pfotenhauser, Mrs. Richard Mollison, Mrs. Robert Le Tourneau, Mrs. Clayton Kirchman, Mrs. Gil Leland, Mrs. Harold Epstein, Mrs. Irwin Silberstein, Mrs. Robert Woods, Mrs. Sol Lieberman, Mrs. Robert Malone, Mrs. Brakebill, Mrs. Lamp, Mrs. Boyle, Mrs. Zeigler, Mrs. Reischling and Mrs. Cohn.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee.

A first aid class is held at the Westlake School every Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in Room 12, the PTA announced.

Joined in Rites at Holy Trinity Church

JOINED in matrimony at the Holy Trinity church recently were Angeleque Sarris and Paul Valente. The new Mrs. Valente is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sarris, 224 Los Banos avenue, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Valente of San Francisco. The bride was graduated from Jefferson high school. The groom is a World War II navy veteran, and is presently employed as a butcher in San Francisco. Doing best man honors was Julio Francesconi and matron of honor was Kay Kyrimis. The couple are making their home in San Francisco.

Sheridan PTA Founders Fete Will Feature Candlelight Ceremony

"The Four Cornerstones," a traditional candlelighting ceremony, will be presented by Sheridan PTA at their Founders Day and birthday luncheon on Tuesday, February 17, at 12 o'clock noon. The meeting will not be held as usual at the school, but will be held at the Pilgrim Congregational Community Church, 400 Randolph street. The luncheon is in honor of the 56th anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the 30th birthday of the unit.

Members who will participate in the candlelighting ceremony are Mesdames: W. H. Sanders, Leslie Dilworth, V. J. Rivara, Ezra Chase and Robert Larribeau. Mrs. R. W. Niemi, membership chairman of Second District and last president of Sheridan PTA, will be guest speaker. Her topic will be "Our Fathers."

Also included on the program are presentations of the honor roll and remembrance fund awards and the honorary life membership. Special music has been arranged by Mrs. W. H. Sanders.

All Sheridan PTA members and their friends are invited to attend, with past presidents of the unit being honored guests, according to Mrs. E. J. O'Malley, founders day chairman.

Ladies of Lake Merced Plan for Apron Sale

Ladies of the Lake Merced Auxiliary No. 9921 had a busy evening Tuesday as they held their general meeting and prepared for an apron sale.

They were honored by the attendance of three guests from Old Glory Auxiliary. They were: Marie Gehrig, president; Clara Poket and Catherine McKeown.

Hazel Eagleton reminded those present that the date for the bloodmobile's appearance here had been changed from February 5 to March

1. The blood unit will be at the Presbyterian church in Broadmoor. Mrs. Eagleton urged all members to be there on the March 1 date between the hours of 1 and 7 p.m.

Officials of the Lake Merced group reminded all those who are in doubt as to what to get immediate friends for Valentine's day that the Auxiliary's aprons on sale today at King's Market feature a wide assortment at just the right price.

Speakers Reminisce At Founders' Meeting

Early in Gen. Pershing PTA's history the members wheeled hot food for lunches to the school in a little red wagon.

This was one of the many interesting happenings recalled by Mrs. John Eason, speaker at the Founders' Day meeting, February 4. It was all volunteer work in those days, with the PTA furnishing the food. As there was no stove or sink at the school, they had to prepare the food at home—that is, until they raised the money to buy these necessary items.

Help Needy Children
Many needy children were made happy by one of their other projects, the "shoe fund." It was during the days of the depression that this was instituted.

A candle lighting service was carried out, with four children lighting a candle each, representing home, school, church and community.

Give Life Membership
Mrs. Frank Prisco, Founders' Day chairman, presented all attending honorary life members and past presidents with gay handkerchief corsages. As a climax to this, Mrs. Margaret Clark, former Gen. Pershing teacher, was given this year's honorary life membership, presented to her by Mrs. Lyle Ingersoll.

The program was both opened and closed with community singing led by William Tergis and accompanied by Miss H. Engel, kindergarten teacher, at the piano.

Tergis, president of the PTA, had a word for the men in the recent issue of the "Newsette." He said, "I'd like to predict that in the near future throughout the country more and more men will be working with the PTA. It's true that we are bucking tradition a little, but when something important is at stake like children, for instance, we don't mind doing that; and don't traditions change with every generation?"

Pioneers in Movement
"In the early days of this country, for example, most of the teachers were men. Then for some mysterious reason the women took over. Now the men are coming back in the elementary schools again. This is a healthy sign. The men who are breaking into the PTA these days are the pioneers of a new movement."

Next big event for the Gen. Pershing group is the spring festival, to be held February 27.

Babe DeLuca Hits 688 Series at Brentwood

Jeffs Make It Seven Wins

Babe DeLuca, bowling for Central Club, wiped all records from the books Tuesday night at Brentwood as he rolled up a 688 series. His game in the phenomenal series was 255, also a record, and he became the first bowler in the Daly City-Colma bowling league to rack up three straight 200 games. Besides the 255 effort, he had games of 200 and 233. He piled up a total of 21 strikes to fashion his record series. DeLuca narrowly missed a 700 series, something which few of even the best bowlers can boast, when in the last game the tenth tin teetered, then remained upright. Central Club, mainly because of their ace's efforts, rang up high team series and high team game with 2672 and 944, respectively. Hilltop Cab forged to three wins

Cereghino Pitches At Training Camp

Eddie Cereghino, youthful hurling sensation from Jefferson high, pitched before Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees this week at the Yank training camp in Glendale. Earlier reports indicated that the Yanks were pleased with Cereghino, but hadn't had enough time to date to come to any definite decision as to where they will send him. Stengel and scout Babe Herman concentrated this week on teaching green players to "eliminate errors" at their training school. Stengel ran the youngsters out on the practice diamond during the week for rounds of bunting, base running and pitching practice. "Our purpose is to eliminate errors," said Herman, "because lack of errors, more than strength, determines ball games."

Card Frosh Wallop Jefferson Varsity

Stanford's yearling cagers were a little too much for Jefferson's league-leading Indians, as the cards tromped the local team 87-45, in a game held at Stanford Saturday. Stanford rolled to a 17-8 lead at the quarter, 39-23 at half-time, and 63-32 at the end of the third period. The frosh team had four point-makers who scored in two figures, but Jeff Forward Don Delbon led scoring for both teams with 13 points.

Pastime Club Leads Recreation League

Pastime club got off to a lead in the Daly City Adult Basketball league which began last Thursday by winning one game from Ralph's Cleaners and taking a forfeit from 12-Mile House. In Thursday's game the Pastimers downed Ralph's 45 to 39. Hoyt Water Heaters also stopped Ralph's Tuesday night, winning 46 to 34.

DEFENSE DIRECTOR ASSERTS NEED FOR TRAINED PERSONS

The need for at least one person trained in first aid in every home in California was re-emphasized today by Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense. Calling attention to the terrific toll of lives and injuries on the state's highways, General Robertson pointed out that persons trained in first aid are needed constantly in our daily lives as well as during enemy attack. "Being the first one to arrive at the scene of a highway accident is something anyone may experience at any time and the ability to administer first aid may well be the means of saving a life," General Robertson declared. General Robertson cited the record of Adelaide and Tolle Hinton, who operate a Red Cross emergency first aid station in Mendocino county. During the summer vacation season the Hintons average as many as 18 calls a month to render first aid to injured persons. Miles from the nearest doctor, Adelaide Hinton, who served as a nurse with the American forces in the Argonne Forest in World War I, and her husband, Tolle, who teaches Red Cross first aid classes in a sparsely populated area of Mendocino county, are able to render an invaluable Civil Defense service because of their knowledge of first aid.

THE OUTDOORS

Regulation Changes

California's five-man Fish and Game Commission has decided that there will be only a few major changes in this year's hunting and sport fishing regulations.

Following a day-long public hearing at San Francisco, the conservation body came up with the following changes in the 1952 regulations, most of which were suggested by sportsmen's groups:

Trout angling will begin Saturday, May 30, in waters of a dozen north coast and Sierra counties, and Saturday, May 2, in the rest of the State. Modoc County was moved to the early season, as were Bucks Lake in Plumas County, Earl and Talawa lakes in Del Norte County, and the Yuba River and its forks in Yuba, Sierra and Nevada counties where they form the boundary between the early and late seasons.

State-wide bag limits remain 15 trout, salmon, whitefish or combination, except in San Francisco's Lake Merced, where the daily bag was upped from two to four. Shasta Reservoir and Lake Britton in Shasta County were added to the list of 14 waters where fish may be taken at any time of the year. The Kokanee salmon limit in the two lakes will be five fish, while the summer bag limit of 15 trout will apply there all year. All new regulations become effective March 1, 1953.

The catfish bag limit of 15 fish was increased to 15 pounds and one fish in Sierra and Alpine counties and the parts of Nevada, Placer, Eldorado, Amador, Calaveras and Tuolumne counties east of State Highway 49. The old limit will be in effect elsewhere.

Night fishing for catfish will be permitted in Tuolumne County's Don Pedro Reservoir, and Yolo and Sacramento counties north of Highway 40. The nine-inch minimum size limit in Clear Lake was abolished.

A controversial anti-snagging regulation set in 1952 was amended to prohibit: (1) any multiple hook with shortest distance between hook points greater than 1½ inches or shank longer than 2 inches, (2) any multiple hook with weight more than ½ ounce applied thereto, or (3) any weight suspended from any multiple hook, in steelhead and salmon streams.

Aquapools, or artificial breathing devices, were ruled out for taking mollusks, crustaceans, salmon, trout and striped bass by skin divers north of the Santa Barbara-Ventura county line.

A year-round, State-wide open season on cockles, and a universal closed season on garibaldi, were declared. New bag limits of 10 rock scallops and 10 lobsters will prevail in 1953.

Hunters will find the game regulations essentially the same as in 1952, except that the Department of Fish and Game has managed to eliminate most of the district rulings, substituting county lines or prominent landmarks where possible.

The early coastal deer hunting season will extend from August 8 to September 13, with the inland or Sierra, season running from September 19 to October 18. Colusa County north of State Highway 20, and all of Tehama and Glenn counties were transferred from the early season to the late.

The Commission turned down a proposal to hold a hunter's choice, either-sex deer season in coastal areas, but opened two refuges, 1-M in Kern County, and Huntington Lake in Fresno County, to hunting, effective October 1. For the first time, rifled slugs in shotguns may be used to take deer.

The pheasant hunting season, with a bag of two birds per day, will run from November 21 to November 30. One female pheasant may be taken each day in 12 central and southern California counties.

Sportsman's Calendar

The Department of Fish and Game reminds California sportsmen of the following general regulations which apply to current hunting and fishing:

JACK RABBITS — Closed in southern California Districts 4, 4½, 4¾, 19, 20 and 22. No closed season elsewhere. No bag limit. WILD BOARS — No closed season. No bag limit. Trapping and night hunting prohibited in Monterey County. Hunting license required.

TROUT — No closed season in Colorado River Area. Closed elsewhere. Bag and possession limits: 10 trout in Colorado River Area.

STEELHEAD TROUT AND SALMON — Ends January 31 or February 28 in specified streams. Bag limits: 2 trout or salmon or combination in streams south of San Francisco; 3 fish in other streams.

CATFISH — No closed season. Bag limit: 15 fish. Night fishing permitted in Siskiyou, Shasta, Lake, Modoc, Tehama, Butte, Glenn, Colusa, Yuba, Sutter and Inyo counties, and in Pitt River Lassen County.

BLACK BASS, SUNFISH, CRAPPIE, SACRAMENTO PERCH — Bag limits: 5 black bass, 25 sunfish, crappie, perch combined. Local exceptions.

OCEAN FISH — No closed season for tuna, yellowfin, marlin, broadbill swordfish, black sea bass, barracuda, white sea bass, bonito, rock bass, sand bass, kelp bass, halibut, corbina, croaker, lingcod and cabezone. Bag limits: 15 in aggregate, but not more than 10 of any one of other species listed above, nor more than 2 marlin, swordfish or black sea bass.

Promotion for Lahr

Director Seth Gordon of the Department of Fish and Game has announced the promotion of Leslie E. Lahr from patrol captain to assistant chief of patrol in charge of employee training.

The move was effective January 1. Lahr will fill the post left vacant by Walter T. Shannon, who became deputy director of the Department last year. He will be replaced as warden captain of Humboldt and Del Norte counties by Walter L. Gray of Eureka.

Cleas Policy

The California Fish and Game Commission has announced a clarification of its controversial "no feeding" deer policy which would permit emergency aid to threatened deer "temporarily trapped by unusually heavy snows."

The move clarifies provisions of a 15-point deer management policy adopted in 1950 which calls for "management of deer herds on the basis of natural forage without recourse to artificial feeding." In its announcement, the Commission stated that "controversy has arisen as to whether this policy precludes the feeding of deer, for humane and public relations purposes, by the Department of Fish and Game, when such animals are temporarily trapped by unusually heavy snows, thereby making their normal forage unavailable to them."

"This Commission did not intend to prohibit such feeding by the Department of Fish and Game under proper control, during extreme emergencies, and does not now construe the policy as adopted to do so."

The resolution asks that "the Department keep in close touch with the deer herds throughout the winter, and if such animals are found to be trapped by abnormally heavy snows in any locality the matter shall be reported at once by the Director to the members of the Commission and their approval sought to proceed with an emergency feeding program."

"If a majority of sad commissioners concur in the findings as reported, the Department may, whenever practicable, proceed to provide and distribute either natural or artificial foods, under carefully planned departmental supervision, as in the option of the director and his staff will best serve to tide the stranded animals over the emergency."

A Department of Fish and Game representative told the five-man Commission that there is currently no threat to California deer herds from weather conditions. The Sierra deer are in better than usual condition, he reported, and feed conditions are excellent. Warm January weather and a light snow pack in most areas means a good spring for deer. The winter situation remains under constant watch by Department field men, and the Department is prepared to carry out any necessary emergency feeding on short notice.

December Tuna Catch

SAN FRANCISCO — December tuna landings at California ports amounted to 13,545 tons, including 14 tons of bonito and 161 of yellowtail, the State Department of Fish and Game reports.

The total was made up of 6,500 tons of skipjack, 717 tons of albacore, 6,200 tons of yellowfin, in what might be called an average month for the growing fishery, according to Chief R. S. Croker of the Department's Marine Fisheries Branch.

Pacific mackerel landings were among the lowest on record—43 tons, while the less desirable jack mackerel "took up the slack" with 1,605 tons delivered to processors' docks. Anchovies amounted to 1,976 tons for the month and 28 tons of squid were taken mainly for processing for the export market.

DELBON, BLANCHARD SPARK LOCALS TO 74-45 ROUT OVER SAN MATEANS

Jefferson's apparently unbeatable Indians whitewashed San Mateo Tuesday in their second game with the Bearcats, 74 to 45.

Leading the way were the Jeffs' high-scoring forwards, Don Delbon and Larry Blanchard, who netted 22 and 23, respectively.

The local 30s suffered a 44-28 setback.

The varsity win was the seventh straight for coach Mike Orlich, and put the Jeffs further in command of the PAL race.

The Indians jumped to an early 17-9 lead in the first quarter. The margin was stretched to 37 to 23 at half time, and 53 to 37 at the end of the third period.

With two minutes to play the score was at 60-43, and then the local cagers turned on the steam, utilizing a fast break that had the San Mateans bewildered.

The Mateo lightweights took command at the start of the game and never lost the lead.

Jerry With led the local 30s with seven points.

JEFFS TAKE DOUBLE WIN OVER HALF MOON BAY

The relentless Jefferson basketball machine overpowered Half Moon Bay last Friday, 85-53, to move a step closer to a PAL championship.

The Jefferson papooses moved into a tie for second place with San Mateo by downing the Cougar lightweights, 47-25.

In the varsity contest, Forward Don Delbon led the way with 26 points, his best effort this season. Larry Blanchard, Wally Honeywell, Wayne Lovelace and Ray Rosa also scored in the double figures.

Leading the local lightweights were Jerry Yarborough and Leo Villar with 10 and 11 points, respectively.

The varsity win marked the sixth straight for the Jeffs and the sixth straight loss for Half Moon Bay. The local heavies led 41-21 at halftime.

MANY ACTIVITIES AT LOCAL PARKS

Marchbanks Park News

From Marchbanks Park comes the news that volleyball is the feature attraction. A large number of teenagers, both boys and girls, are turning out each day for this lively sport.

On the middle level of Marchbanks Park where the little children play comes the news that Paula Jones and her brother Billy dropped their bag of potatoes in the Park last Monday and had a gay time chasing them down the hill. All were retrieved in a short while.

On Tuesday Dennis Nelson chinned himself three times in succession on the acrobatic bars and rings. Dennis is only six years old. Betty Lou Reed turned somersaults just like an expert. She can do them backwards too.

Ricardo Colorado and his pals are often found on the middle level playing a vigorous game of ball tag. This game appears to be their favorite type of recreation.

Edgewood News

The yo-yo contest under the supervision of the playground director, Bobbie Carroll, was the highlight of the week for the children at Edgewood. Donny Bridges, Billy Lake, Sally Siegert and Linda Bridges were just a few of the children waiting eagerly for the contest to begin. After the morning contest, Patrick Smith was seen with a smile a mile wide. He had good reason, too, being first place winner. Long hours of practice also paid off for Tom Kollman, winner of the one o'clock contest.

Now that Edgewood has checkers again, Joan Molloy is ready to take on any challenger for her position of last years champ. We believe Barbara Sears will be a strong contender.

Westlake Playground News At Westlake Playground basketball is always popular. Many boys have enjoyed a lively afternoon under the watchful eye of Dick Milkovich playground director of Westlake.

Softball is also gaining in popularity at Westlake. Director Milkovich is anxious to form a small boys league so if you live in the Westlake area, drop in at the playground and ask for Dick.

Lincoln Playground News Lincoln Park has a new director. He is Harry Redlick and he is anxious to meet all the children in the area. There is a variety of activities for the tots; such as swings and slides. For the older boys there are the basketball courts and the ping pong tables. Come around and say hello. Harry will be glad to see you.

As long ago as 500 B.C., King Ahasuerus held a six month fair to show the riches of his kingdom.

LOCAL YOUTH IS RETURNING AFTER 18 MONTHS DUTY

WITH THE 1ST CAVALRY DIV. IN JAPAN—Army Cpl. Angelo J. Craviotto, son of Louis Craviotto, 17 Bruno ave., Daly City, Calif., is returning to the United States under the Army's rotation program after 18 months in the Far East.

He served in the 1st Cavalry Division, which spent 17 months in the front lines of Korea before being assigned to security duty in Japan late in 1951.

World War II veterans will remember this same division landed at Lingayen Gulf on Luzon, Philippine Islands in early 1945 and raced south to help liberate Manila. American prisoners of war held at Santo Tomas University were freed by an advance column of the 1st Cavalry.

Corporal Craviotto, who served as an assistant platoon sergeant in Company C of the 5th Cavalry Regiment, is a veteran of seven months in Korea with that unit. He has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge.

A graduate of Jefferson High School, Daly City, he was employed by the Bank of America in San Francisco, before entering the Army in January 1951.

History records evidence of fairs in Eastern countries long before the dawn of the Christian era.

Fairs serve as out-of-town tourist attractions as well as local attractions, bringing much outside money into the community where the fair is held.

MANY CALLS FOR DANCING CLASSES

The local recreation department has received many calls from persons interested in square and folk dancing, director James Mason announced this week.

Mason said, "Folk dancing is an integral part of the adult recreation program. The dancing provides many an adult with a very wholesome form of relaxation."

Mrs. Muriel Pabst teaches folk dancing to all age levels in Daly City. She has been instructor here for four years.

At present two dance groups are functioning. They are: The Calico Clickers (intermediate and advanced group). The Clickers meet every Thursday night from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. and in addition hold a party night every third Saturday.

A teen age group meets Monday evening from 7 to 8:30 o'clock. This group offers opportunity for the young people to learn the basic steps so that they can go on to advance numbers, Mason said.

A beginning class for adults will be resumed Wednesday, Feb. 18, because of the popular demand. Classes will begin at 8:30 p.m.

"The dances will be simple and easy to learn, with particular emphasis being devoted to step technique," Mrs. Pabst said.

The versatile Taylor Holmes, who has played from Jeeter Lester in "Tobacco Road" to President Roosevelt in "I'd Rather Be Right" is one of the greats of the stage. He recently celebrated his fifty-first anniversary as an actor and his thirtieth as a motion picture star.

The fascinating and shapely Jacqueline de Wit, like the others, has been in pictures and television along with her stage appearances with Katharine Cornell and in New York Theatre Guild productions with the Lunts.

"Affairs of State" is about love and political maneuverings in Washington. Its bright lines, unusual situations and witty dialogue go to make it one of America's top comedies.

John Callan, German Roller Canaries Win Roomful of Trophies

These Birds Sing-- Just for Enjoyment

Have you ever heard a hollow roll, a water glucke, a shockle, flutes or a water roll?

Odds are that the answer would be no to this question, but if you've ever heard a talented German Roller canary sing then the answer should be yes.

For those terms all make up part of the "vocabulary" of well-trained singing canaries.

And the man that has more than 10 such musically-minded canaries is John Callan, 196 Werner street.

As proof of the ability of his birds, Callan's living room is festooned with more than 150 trophies won in competition practically from here to Kalamazoo.

Besides that he has what amounts to a trunk full of ribbons, amounting to more than half-a-thousand.

Callan, brother of Supervisor Thomas Callan, began raising the German Rollers in 1939, and since then his every spare moment is devoted to the training and upbringing of the birds.

But you can't buy these birds for a song. Recently Callan was offered $600 for four of his young birds that just won top honors in the Salt Lake City Roller Canary derby.

On another occasion, a Cuban bought one of his birds for $365, sight unseen.

As Callan explains it, a breeder checks a bird's record in competition. If the bird's "tongue" (reportoire of songs) contains certain qualities that the breeder would like to emphasize in his birds, he buys the bird for mating purposes.

Callan acquires some of his birds from such far-away points, as Germany, Belgium and Switzerland.

Along about this time of year comes the season of romance for the birds.

Hatching begins in March and by the time Callan's birds are at the tender age of six months they will have gone through some pretty rigorous training in the art of song-making.

Then, come December, the young birds will be entered in competition for the first time.

Some birds live (and still sing) to an age of 1 or 12 years, but they reach their apex of melody about the second year, the bird-raiser said.

Raising the birds is no easy job, nor for that matter, is keeping all Callan's trophies clean. Mrs. Callan (Ida) will testify to this.

The couple must give the prima donnas diligent and attentive care daily.

Callan administrators to his talented fowl both night and morning, and takes care of them on his lunch hour occasionally.

He missed out last week in a chance to enter his prize birds in the Canadian competition, the biggest in the country.

The birds must be shipped by plane, and since it was too foggy, the performers couldn't make their engagement.

But Callan isn't discouraged. His birds won him 30 ribbons in 1952, and, to all appearances, they'll do as well again this year.

Schedule for X-Ray Units Is Approved At Citizens' Meet

The schedule for the X-ray units for the mass chest X-ray survey was approved by the Citizens Committee at a meeting last night held at the Community Hospital, San Mateo. T. F. McGuigan, chairman of the Citizens Committee, announced "The survey will start simultaneously in Redwood City, East Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Atherton and Woodside March 10.

"Several X-ray units will then move north to San Carlos and Belmont and will be in San Mateo March 24, Burlingame, Millbrae, San Bruno will follow and the survey will close with all the units concentrated in South San Francisco and Daly City.

"One X-ray unit will start with La Honda March 17 and continue up the coast until all coastal areas have been covered," Mr. McGuigan said.

"In addition to the community surveys, it is planned to X-ray 11,000 employees in the major industries in San Mateo county stretching from East Palo Alto to South City.

"Headquarters for the survey have been opened at 1152 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame. "Participation in the survey by every member in the community is essential to its success," said Mr. McGuigan.

"Volunteers in every area are urged to call the office stating when they are available, or get in touch with the local chairmen which include: Carl Britschgi, Redwood City; Andy Byrd, Burlingame; Herschel Campbell, San Mateo; William Kennedy, Daly City and Colma; Joseph Bracco, South San Francisco; and A. Macsoso, Millbrae.

"Chairmen for Menlo Park, San Carlos, Belmont and other areas not yet covered will be announced this next week," McGuigan concluded.

U. S. Takes $2 Million From School Employees In San Mateo County

Uncle Sam withheld nearly $2 million in taxes from the teachers and other school employees of San Mateo County during the calendar year 1952, according to County Schools Superintendent J. R. Torrey. Torrey said that the taxes withheld from school district employees by his office for 1952 totaled $1,621,908.48. This was a rise of nearly half a million dollars over the 1951 total of $1,163,737.98. The 1952 total covered 4,569 withholding cases, and was nearly ten times the total collected from the teachers of the county in 1943, when but $178,504.60 was withheld.

VEHICLE DEPARTMENT SUSPENDS LICENSES OF TWO LOCAL DRIVERS

Those put on order of probation by the department were Wilton Allen Willis, 425 Wellington avenue, Richard Glen Hubbard, rt. 1, box 282, Colma, Ray Frank Record, 14 West Cavour and Ralph Sylvester, 21 Belmont.

At one p.m. Monday, February 16, San Mateo Junior College will put its radio station KCSM-FM on the air. This will be the culmination of several years of work in arranging for the station, obtaining government permission, constructing of much of the equipment in college classes, and lining up program material.

The FM programs will come in at 90.9 megacycles on the radio dial and will be heard from Daly City to Palo Alto. The programs will be offered Monday through Friday each week from one to five o'clock.

Richard P. Marsh of the faculty, who is the program director, has been arranging programs in his radio classes of day and evening students, and Dr. Jacob Wiens, faculty member who is serving as chief engineer of the new station, directed the construction work of a number of his students who provided much of the equipment.

Social Security Law Changes Allow For Special Benefits

Recent amendments to the Federal Social Security law have special application to benefits for minor children and other dependents of deceased veterans with military service after World War II. Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo County said today.

The new legislation extends social security credits to cover service in the armed forces after the end of World War II. It allows service at any time from September 16, 1940, to December 31, 1953, to count in a serviceman's credit toward social security benefits, Granger pointed out.

Until the new law was passed, he said, service in World War II counted for social security credits, but post-War II service did not.

The change is important to survivors of deceased servicemen and veterans, the Service Officer explained, because the extended coverage of credits will allow officers and others. An hour of classical music will follow from 1:30 to 2:30. From 2:30 to 4:00 the British Broadcasting Corporation drama, "The Inspector General" will be broadcast. From 4:00 to 4:30 a half hour of music, "The Dress Circle" will follow, with 4:30 to 5:00 closing the opening program with The Chicago Roundtable. The desire for better things, which is stimulated by attendance at fairs, has been an important factor in achieving America's high standard of living.

America's 2500 fairs have been called the show windows of democracy.

Proof that numerous fairs were held in Biblical times may be found in the 27th Chapter of the Book of Ezekiel.

Fire in Motor--But Bus Must Go On

A San Francisco bus driver was thrown off schedule here last Friday when a fire broke out in the motor of his vehicle, No. 42, as it loaded passengers at the intersection of Mission and San Jose avenue at 7:50 a.m.

The driver, Emil Wren of San Francisco, almost had to be forcibly restrained while local firemen put out the blaze.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy said the fire broke out in the motor, apparently from a short circuit.

The bus driver didn't want to wait while the firemen extinguished the blaze.

"I'm late on my route now," he said, according to Chief Kennedy. But the firemen refused to let Wren go. The motor was thoroughly bathed in chemicals, after which Wren started the vehicle and attempted to make up for lost time on the Broadmoor-Westlake route.
